

Asian Strategic Alliance for Pneumococcal Disease Prevention Symposium at the 8th Asian Congress of Paediatric Infectious Diseases 2016 Pneumococcal Conjugate Vaccines 15 Years On

Date: 10th November 2016

Time: 10:30 – 12:00 hrs

Venue: Meeting Room 3, Queen Sirikit National Convention Center, Bangkok, Thailand

The symposium will share local experiences on the introduction on pneumococcal conjugate vaccines in different Asian countries. The key objectives of this symposium are to:

1. Disseminate latest information on pneumococcal disease epidemiology in the region
2. Discuss antibiotic sensitivity patterns in different countries
3. Discuss the use of the conjugate vaccine in different countries
4. Share individual experiences with regard to national immunization as well as private sector use of the conjugate vaccine.

Scientific Programme

Chairs: Prof. Zulkifli Ismail (Malaysia) and Prof. Lulu C Bravo (Philippines)

Time	Title	Speaker
1030-1050	PCV in GAVI Eligible Countries: Current Situation and the Way Forward	Prof. Iqbal Memon (Pakistan)
1050-1110	Issues and Challenges of Pneumococcal Vaccination: Antibiotic Resistance and Serotype Replacement	Dr. Lee Ping-Ing (Taiwan)
1110-1130	Changing Epidemiology of Pneumococcal Disease in the Era of Conjugate Vaccines	Dr. Maria Rosario Capeding (Philippines)
1130-1150	The Role of Pneumococcal Polysaccharide Vaccine in the Prevention of Pneumococcal Diseases	Dr. Yhu-Chering Huang (Taiwan)
1150-1200	Q&A

This symposium is supported in part by an educational grant from GlaxoSmithKline

ASAP Secretariat:

Ping Conference (A Division of Ping Healthcare Pte Ltd.)
20 Sin Ming Lane #06-55 Midview City Singapore 573968.
Tel: +65 6778 5620 Fax: +65 6778 1372
email: info@pingconference.com www.pingconference.com

Asian Strategic Alliance for Pneumococcal disease prevention is registered in Hong Kong SAR
Society Registration No: CP/LIC/SO/19/48209

